REGKNOT MARITIME COMPLIANCE CO-PILOT

FOR SUBCHAPTER M FLEETS

Your crew's compliance question, answered from the regulation, cited.

RegKnot reads the CFR, Coast Guard policy and your own safety manual, and answers for each boat in plain English, with the section number your TPO auditor can check. Built with Captain Karynn Marchal, USCG Master Unlimited.

Every citation checked

Each section number is verified against the regulation text before the answer is shown. No invented rules.

It knows the boat

Inland towboat, coastal tug or ferry: the vessel profile scopes the search, so the answer fits the boat, not the industry.

Your TSMS in the chat

Upload the manual once. Questions get answered from it with page references, next to the regulation.

✓ Real answers, checked against the text

Does a new deckhand need a safety orientation before we get underway?

Yes. Before the boat first gets underway with them aboard: ten topics, from emergency duties and lifesaving gear to falls overboard, PPE and the tow, logged with the date, topics and signatures. 46 CFR 140.410

What records does a Subchapter M towboat have to keep?

Ten kinds, in the Towing Vessel Record, the official logbook or your TSMS: personnel, orientations, drills, examinations and tests, navigation equipment and assessments, training, oil residue, towing gear inspections, fire systems. 46 CFR 140.915

WHEELHOUSE, PER BOAT	INCLUDES
$99.99 / month $89.99 / month billed annually	Up to 10 crew per boat, shared chat and history, the company manual, vessel dossier, credential tracking, and an audit log of who asked what, with citations. Fleet rates from 5 boats.

First boat free for 90 days.

No card. Set up in ten minutes: name the boat, invite the crew, ask the first question.

regknots.com/fleet?src=pilot-jordan

Library today: 46 and 33 CFR complete, 248 NVICs, Coast Guard policy letters and safety alerts, the Medical Manual, SOLAS, MARPOL, STCW, the IMDG Code and 14 flag states. Updated weekly.

Jordan Hall for RegKnot · hello@regknots.com

Navigation aid only, not legal advice. regknots.com